MANHATTAN HOUSE.
NO. 69 DUANE-STREET, NEW YORK.
JAMES RYAN, from the Howard House, Boston, recently informs the public, that he has taken the large building in Duane street, 6 doors from Broadway, known as Rutgers College, for the purpose of a HOTEL and RESTAURANT. The interior of the building has been entirely taken out, and refitted expressly to suit the business of the present occupant.

Mr Ryan will keep the Manhattan House for the accommodation of Clubs and Parties. The best wines and Liquors will be furnished from his cellar, having been carefully selected from the best stocks in Boston—a large portion of them being of the celebrated Dr. Gallaghers in the cellar of Mr. Gallagher, the Exchange Coffee House. Rooms will be furnished for Boarding and Courts Martial. Transient and permanent boarders will be accommodated in the best style known in the country; and elegant apartments will be let, with or without board.

The Table d'Hôte will be supplied with every delicacy of the various seasons. Breakfasts, Dinners and Suppers, of every description, will be served at short notice, and various Soups will be ready every day from eleven to three. Mr. Ryan is confident that in this department, his own experience, added to the skill of the persons employed as cuisiniers, will enable him to please the most fastidious epicures, both in respect to quality and price.

Those persons who have known the character of Mr. Ryan's House in Boston, he is assured, will find his accommodations better, his rooms more ample, and his dilgence quite as unerring; and from such strangers in this city, as love elegance in the various departments of his profession, he would beg the favor of an early call, with the full hope of giving satisfaction.

RHEUMATISM & GOUT

HOFFMAN'S GUT AND RHEUMATIC PILLS.—Perhaps there is no two diseases in which the human frame is subject, that physician meet with so often as in all their varieties, than the Rheumatism and Gout, in which the best efforts of his skill is to often baffled and the most scientific combination of his remedies prove so entirely powerless, in regard to the anticipated effect, as in these painful and distressing complaints. Yet, painful and tedious as these diseases are, the proprietor of these Pills has an undoubting confidence, that in all recent or ordinary cases of this remedy will be found for relief and benefit; and in all cases, even those of the longest standing, a relief; and if the remedy is persisted in for a few weeks, an effectual cure.

Still the proprietor does not wish those whose constitutions are broken, or whose limbs have assumed a matutinous form, to depend on this compound, until they can be eradicated in a moment—on this consideration, the following Letter is addressed to him:

“I am, Sir, your very respects, W. H.

Prepared by Mr John T. Eddy, Bishop's Stortford, Herts, who is appointed Wholesale Agents to the Proprietor.

BR. JOHN ARMSTRONG'S LIVER PILLS.

“I care not how I am physicianed, so it be not by the adventure of a Quack, but advice of a Physician, who I am sure will prescribe no more for me than will consist with my safety, and need both require.”—Old Divise.

THE possessor of the Prescription from which these Pills are prepared, is said to be, Mr John T. Eddy, a scientific Chemist, obtained it from the late Dr Armstrong, (Lecturer at St Thomas's Hospital, London, and author of the celebrated works on Typhus and Scarlet Fever, &c. &c.) for his wife, who in 1827 became the Doctor's patient, when evidently laboring under confirmed Liver complaint, and to all appearance in a deep decline. She had not long taken the Pills, in the prescribed intervals, before she was perfectly restored to health; and has, with the occasional use of them, continued free from pain, and in perfect health and cheerful spirits ever since.

The possessor of this admirable Prescription (a gentleman of private fortune) having distributed the Pills with the most extraordinary success among the Poor in many counties in England, in 1828, determined to offer them at a price, to the public—his personal observation and experience having convinced him that they would prove a real blessing, if taken according to the Physician's advice and directions in the wrapper, to all—both old and young, children as well as adults; women, pregnant, and after the month of confinement—who suffered from an inimical Liver, and thence all the attendant miseries of Indigestion—Billious Affections, so called—Flatulence, Jaundice, Dropsey—Pain in the Sides and under the Shoulder-blades—Difficulty of Breathing—distressing sensations—Choking—with the complexion and white of the eyes yellow.

The very first two Pills generally afford such relief—such ease from every distressing pain—that the patient is at once surprised and delighted. The Medicine is gentle, though certain in its benign effects. The quantity prescribed to be taken is small, and not oftener than alternate nights.

The following Letter has been addressed to Mr Eddy by one of the Agents at Birmingham.

Birmingham, March 18th, 1836.

Si,

The character which I have received of the efficacy of Dr John Armstrong's Liver Pills, induces me to anticipate that a very considerable sale will be effected here. A Clergyman residing in this town has stated to me that he attributes the speedy recovery of his family of six children and a visitor from America to the use of these Pills. A Gentleman of the name of Smith, of Birmingham, has also found them of great service to him in his consumption.

As far as I can learn, the pills are now in general use in Birmingham, and are recommended by the physicians.

Still the proprietors do not wish those whose constitutions are broken, or whose limbs have assumed a matutinous form, to depend on this compound, until they can be eradicated in a moment—on this consideration, the following Letter is addressed to him:

has been constructed chiefly this season, under the superintendence of Mr Hayward, one of our most skillful and scientific engineers. The rails have all been laid since July, a depot erected, cars built, &c. It is now contemplated to extend it to Exeter, N. H. 17 miles further; thence easterly into Maine.

Buck Plains, Mass., Oct. 25, 1837.

I arrived among the descendants of the Pilgrims a few days ago, and should have been with you before this, had I not been engaged in digging my potatoes and in getting up my fence. I did lay out to come down to Boston on Saturday, but as the person of our village changed work with me on Monday, and dug two acres of potatoes for me, I am obliged to preach for him next Sunday. I am also slightly engaged in teaching a singing school.

The democrats are making use of every fair and honorable means to carry the election in November, and I guess you can reckon on a pretty general turn out. We shall do the handsome thing for Marcus, and if the people of Middlesex, Suffolk, &c., will do as well as we do, you may expect to see him elected.

If you see "Aunt Sarah" of the Atlas, tell her that all of Tuber's folks, and all the Geffs, are going dead set against Edward Everett. They say they can't stand him longer, no way, and mean to have Marcus for Governor. They are right, I vum.

My spring pigs are doing amazingly well; and the crops come out exceedingly well. As soon as I get all in, I shall pack up and go to Congress.

Yours truly, CONSIDER STANDISH.

Ardent Spirits.—When the Whig County Convention was held a short time since at Ipswich, the Barkeeper at one of the principal Hotels was complaining that he had not sold so much liquor as he expected. "Wait patiently," cried a number of the individuals of the respectable party, "till the Democratic Convention assembles, and then you will sell it abundantly." When the Democratic Convention were breaking up, however, the Barkeeper complained that his sales had been smaller than ever, that the whigs, though fewer in number, gave him by far the greatest amount of spiritual comfort.

Lavater.—The Essex Register quotes a paragraph from Lavater, which gives the testimony of this distinguished man in favor of Animal Magnetism, and relates that he was in the habit of practising it. We would make known to our readers, if they are not acquainted with the fact already, that Lavater was one of the most credulous men that ever lived; and that he was himself the author and finisher of a humbug nearly as ridiculous as Animal Magnetism—we mean the Lavaterian system of Physiognomy. The art of Physiognomy, which may be used for many very useful and very practicable purposes, and is really founded in truth and nature, when it fell into the hands of Lavater, and who pretended to reduce it to a science, (I fell, after a few years' popularity, into utter oblivion and contempt.) Lavater's sanction deserves not to be considered as good authority for any matter of opinion, on account of the weakness of his mind, nor for any matter of fact, on account of his credulity. He was a very amiable and pious clergyman—in his mind a real old woman. He was not gifted with the power of distinguishing truth from error, and reason from absurdity.

History of Animal Magnetism.—Mr Perkins of Philadelphia, has published a collection of documents relating to Animal Magnetism, containing a report of a committee of the Royal Society of Medicine at Paris, in 1784—the report of a commission, consisting of Physicians and Royal Academicians, of which Dr. Franklin was chairman, followed by other papers of recent date. The report signed by Franklin, is signed also by Majault, Le Roy, Salina, Baily, D'Arct, De Bory, Guillotin, and Lavoisier. It goes into an elaborate investigation of Animal Magnetism, as practised by Messrs Deshon and Mesmer.

Animal Magnetism.—Does Col Stone intend to do nothing in defence of his pupils, or are we to be entirely left to the mercy of Mr Durand who, it must be confessed, has rowed us all pretty well up salt river?"—N. Y. Budget.

Let the Colonel alone, Mr Budget—he is now busy in settling with the booksellers, and pocketing his profits—as soon as this ceremony is concluded he'll let you hear from him.

Insurrection at the South.—The N. O. True American states that intelligence had been received that a plot had been discovered among the slaves at Red River, to rise and destroy the whites. The plot was laid with much cunning and ingenuity—and was frustrated in consequence of a difference of opinion among the slaves, whether there should be an indiscriminate slaughter of men, women, and children. Mr Compton, upon learning these facts, arrested his house servant, the chief, and he confessed on the gallows, that it had been his intention to kill his master.

On the 10th and 12th inst., nine were hanged and thirty others imprisoned. A strong guard and patrol was kept up day and night. Besides the slaves, three free negroes had been hanged.

The Susquehanna.—Yesterday's mail brought nothing further confirmatory of the reported piracy. There are various rumors abroad. In New York they have a story that a schooner had arrived from Norfolk, the captain of which states, that on Saturday last, when off the Delaware, the Susquehanna made a signal for the schooner to come alongside. This was done, and the ship was supplied with twenty bushels of oysters—after which she stood out to sea."

Stolen Goods, found under a lady's bed at Tiverton, Ms., viz: one counterpane, three coats, one box coat, one fowling piece, one watch, several ladies' dresses, articles including every part of a lady's wardrobe, pantaloons, stockings, collars, shirts, ten bushels of corn, one bag of barley, wood saw, four or five bushels of apples, lots of pumpkins, cabbages, turnips, and a quantity of ardent spirits.

The Journal of Commerce informs us that the Bank of England will be graciously lenient toward its American debtors, and that Mr Cowell, its agent, is in Philadelphia talking with Mr Biddle. If the merchants are to be treated by the Bank of England, as they have been by Mr Biddle, they will have a hard time of it.

Capt White, of the Home.—The friends of this gentleman have published a defence of his character against the imputations that have been cast upon it, since the loss of his vessel. They have brought forward a statement signed by the steward of the late steamer, which fully exonerates Capt. White from the charge of being intoxicated at the time of the dreadful calamity.

Jumping out of a balloon is nearly as dangerous as jumping from a locomotive, says the N. Y. Star. Mr Paulin, owing to the violence of the wind, did so the other day at Trenton, coming down by the cords when he got near the earth. It nearly proved fatal to him. The aerial vessel was abandoned to its fate, and has not been heard of.

Metaphysical Reasoning.—A fellow was told at a tailor's shop that three yards of cloth, by being wet would shrink one quarter of a yard—"Well, then," he inquired, "if you should wet only a quarter of a yard, would there be any of it left?"

Mr Buckingham, who recently arrived at New York from England, is delivering a course of lectures there.

LATE FROM FRANCE.

The New York papers of Thursday evening, contain accounts from Paris to the 24th and from Havre to the 25th ult. inclusive.

The advices from England and from Portugal are no later than we have before had, by the way of London.

The dissolution of the chamber, and the election consequent thereupon, were the great topics of interest with the Parisian public and the journals. A peculiar importance is given to the election, by the determination of the Carlists, or partisans of the Duke de Bordeaux, to come forward openly as a party, with pledged candidates.

The Marquis of Clariacard arrived at Paris on the 23d of September, on his way to London from St Petersburgh. It was reported in Paris that he was charged with propositions from the cabinet of St. Petersburg to that of St James's, relating to the pacification of Spain.

The Constitutional announces the valuable discovery of a process, by which the canvass employed in making the theatrical scenery and decorations, may be rendered perfectly incombustible. Experiments were tried before M. Delbert, the prefect of the police, which were entirely successful.

The latest advices from Algiers speak of a series of skirmishes on the 12th and 13th September, which were attended with no results of importance. The campaign is to be opened in earnest on the 1st of October, or thereabout.

The Journal du Havre gives a report that another marriage is on the tapis, between the Duke de Nemours and the Princess Charlotte Frederica, cousin of the reigning prince of Schwartburg-Sundershausen. The princess is 21 and a Protestant.

Spain.—The correspondence of the Constitutional, dated St Jean-de-Luz, Sep 19, states that the English prisoners taken by the Carlists at Ardoia, had all been shot. The number of the victims, originally given as 200, was reduced to 40 at the date of the latest accounts.

The advices from Madrid are to the 15th inclusive. Nothing is to be learned from the papers.

The Cortes had declared itself in permanent session, in order to second the effects of the government. Moreover the members had armed and organized themselves into two companies of infantry, and declared themselves ready and willing to assist in the defence of the city. The example had produced an excellent effect.

The troops under Espartero marched out of Madrid on the 14th, to attack the Carlists, but returned the next day followed by the Carlists, who were themselves followed and hard pressed by the divisions of Orta and Burens, which had come up by forced marches to the relief of the capital.

A postscript dated Madrid, September 15, 6 o'clock in the evening, states that the Carlists were retreating upon Aragon, by the way of Guadalaxara—making a forced march, but committing dreadful ravages as they went.

A telegraphic despatch, dated Bordeaux, September 22d, announces, on the authority of letters from Santander, dated the 15th, that a junta had been formed in that province, and declared itself independent of the central government.

Letters from St Sebastian declare that the troops composing the remnant of the British legion, have determined to leave Spain, pay or no pay, and have nothing more to do with the Queen or Don Carlos.

The Indians, Keokuck, Black Hawk, &c. made a visit to Catlin's Gallery and Lecture Room, in New York, on Tuesday evening last. When the historiographer of the Indian tribes exhibited the portraits of their chiefs, they manifested great delight. Among these portraits were those of Keokuck, Black Hawk, and son, "Madame Keokuck," &c. As the respective portraits were exhibited, each Indian politely got up on the bench, at the suggestion of the interpreter, to show the living original to the audience. Lady Keokuck is set down as a modest looking woman of about 35, and the son, a boy about 14 years of age, is highly praised for his deportment and appearance.

Resolved.—Whosoever a customer, who has paid for his shave, remains afterwards to read the papers, it is both just and lawful to demand of him to pay ninepence for every person who calls and retires, without getting a shave, from a supposition that he will have to wait some time for the summons "Your turn next, sir."

Resolved.—That whereas certain persons get their shaving on tick, and then read the papers, therefore, it shall be deemed just and lawful at their second appearance to shave only one half of their faces, and that more than skin deep, and no court plater allowed.

The celebrated aborigines above referred to, arrived in this city last evening, under the superintendence of Major Bush. They consist of two delegations of Northwestern Indians—a party of Sacs and Foxes, of the Upper Mississippi, numbering thirty-three, men, women and children, from the Agency of Gen. Street, and a party of Laways, Sacs and Yankton Sioux, from the Upper Missouri—the last named tribe being from Major Pilcher's Agency and under the temporary conduct of Mr Rice of the War Department.

The Sacs and Foxes, under Black Hawk, thirty in number, visited the Tremont Theatre, where they excited intense curiosity. Their costume and ornaments were in every respect perfectly Indian.

The Sioux, having no connection with the preceding, though travelling with them, and putting up at Concert Hall, visited the National. The men wore blue coats, with epaulettes, and hats with feathers.

We understand that the order of visiting the theatres is to be reversed on Monday night.

The City Government are making arrangements to receive them publicly at Faneuil Hall, this forenoon, as will be seen by reference to a notice signed by the Mayor, in another column.

Friend Greene—Say a good word, if you please, for Seitz, who gives us the last touch to-morrow (Saturday) evening. He makes the cataf talk differently from most of our players, I assure you, and he will deserve whatever you say in his favor, as a man and a musician.

NORTH END.

—We can't do better than publish our correspondent's note. There is but one opinion about the merits of Mr S. He will, probably, have the pleasure of seeing a large audience to-night.

ROWLAND MACASSAR, Chairman.

We once heard of a mountebank preacher in Berkshire county, who garbled that verse in the bible which says, "Let him, who is on the house top, not come down to take anything out of the house," in such manner, as to read thus: "Top-not, come down," and then went on railing against that class of ladies of wealth and standing, called "Topknots," on account of their pride and especially on account of their extravagant decorations of the head.—Lyndon Record.

A Double Sham.—The Police of Paris have lately seized in the house of a wine dealer, in the Rue de Bretouil, a steam engine, used for making sham champagne. Baltimore Transcript.

—An adjourned meeting of the democratic County and Ward Committees will be held at Concert Hall on Tuesday evening.

NOTICE.—I have received information that the party of Indian Warriors who have been in Washington a few weeks past, will pass two or three days in this city. A these persons will undoubtedly be objects of great interest and curiosity, the public are cautioned not to interfere, more will be unavoidable, with their convenience, by crowding around them as they pass through the streets. If otherwise, they will exhibit themselves freely; if otherwise, they will confine themselves to their lodgings, or move in carriages only. Police officers will attend them.

INDIGESTION, JAUNDICE AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. Anderson's Vegetable Elixir, for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Jaundice and Bilious Complaints; of the Stomach and Bowels, and consequent loss of appetite, nervous complaints, headache, sour stomach, flatulence and habitual constipation.

This medicine is composed entirely of vegetable substances is perfectly safe in its operation, and may be given to children or persons of the most delicate habit, without the least risk of inconvenience.

The uniform success which has attended the use of it where it has been extensively used, in Boston and various other cities of the United States, and in the West Indies, attested by disinterested and highly respectable persons, afford next to a trial of the medicine itself, the best commendation of its virtues, and the best recommendation which can be offered to those who are unacquainted with it.

Extracted after received from a gentleman in Boston, who had suffered greatly from indigestion for three years. "During this time, I suffered very much from mental depression, causing pain in the head and breast, and side, sharpshooting pain over almost the whole system—the food that I ate seemed to pass into my lungs and there remain, giving me great pain's tendered with a strong degree of heat. At times, I suffered so much from the pain of indigestion as to be confined to the bed for two or three days. During one of these most severe attacks I was induced by the advice of a friend to try your Vegetable Medicine. In the course of a few weeks I found myself much better, and by the time I had taken it with considerable success, I had quite got rid of the complaint. I continue on the least failing of anything like indigestion or pressure on the stomach, to take about a table spoonful of it, which, in the course of a few hours completely restores me. It has had with me a very wonderful effect, in strengthening the stomach and invigorating the whole system, and judging by my own case, I consider it in all diseases connected with the digestive organs to be a very valuable medicine.

It has been found singularly efficacious in cases of the most obstinate headache.

It is put up in large bottles containing a pound and a half and sold at seventy-five cents each, by Jonathan P. Hall, Jr., No. 1, Union street, John P. Wainwright, Market st., N. E., Brown, near Boylston Market, Erastus S. Holden, near the Western Avenue, Richard Newell, Summer street, Boston Samuel Kidder & Co., Charlestown, E. G. Lemon, Roxbury, 18

Jelly of Pomegranate AND ICELAND JELLY.

The Jelly of Pomegranate will promote expectorations of the matter which collects in the cavity of the breast, without irritating those delicate organs, and the Iceland Jelly will nourish the body, which food denies to patients laboring under the above disease.

The fact has been proved in the City of Boston and vicinity.

There are a great many who were in the above condition, and have given a fair trial of the above named Medicines, they enjoy now comfortable health. About twenty who have been given over by eminent Physicians, have revived and are now doing well.
